

were led by the Monrovia band; leader, E. N. Condit.

SAN PEDRO AND WILMINGTON.

The San Pedro and Wilmington boys were commanded by Capt. W. H. Savage, and numbered 200 men. This is one of the strongest clubs in the county, and they did some good work during the campaign. Their appearance last night attracted a great deal of attention.

The club bore a large banner reading:

"San Pedro delegation solid for Harrison and Morton."

Others told the crowd "Our town of San Pedro is all right," and "The San Pedro Republican Club swamped the Custom-house."

The Wilmington delegation marched next, with their banner displaying the motto "Fidelity to the American soldier."

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB.

The Republican Club of the University of Southern California turned out in force and made a rattling appearance. This club carried banners edged with fringe, and a good appearance. Following this club came a number of citizens in carriages and on horseback.

The colored troops had many transparencies in line. One referred to "R. M. Jackson, true as steel," and another said, "We vote the county for Harrison and Morton."

The Harrison and Morton Club, the Eureka Club and the Concord Club all had their banners unfurled. Others read, "We vote the state for Harrison and Morton," "South for us," and "Protect the dignity of labor."

THE LINE OF MARCH.

The procession marched up Main street to the Plaza, and then counter-marched to Second and up Spring to Temple, up Temple to Fort and down Fort to the wigwam on Second and Fort, where they broke up, and the country clubs were escorted to the depots.

Before the Union League was driven a carriage in which was a handsome piece of decoration surrounded by a large escort.

Senator Hancock and 15 Santa Barbara Republicans arrived in time last night to enjoy the procession.

A number of people expected speech-making last night, but the procession took up so much time that it was too late when the wigwam was reached.

It was so hard to get the clubs in order that the divisions were knocked out, and the aides took charge wherever they could do the most good.

W. Parsons took Mr. Lewis's place among the aides.

There were a number of newspaper carriers among the Harrison cavalry, and the little fellows looked like real men.

Whenever there is a procession in this city, street cars that reach the heart of the city on the main street, a week, in times of peace, whiff up and down the streets and whiz around prominent corners that would be truly refreshing at times when they are wanted.

The horses that, as a rule, creep along at a snail's pace, brace up during a procession, and seem to take a fabled delight in running over people and breaking up the line of march.

Last night the street cars seemed to be more numerous than ever. Old cars that have not been on the road for years were out in their glory, and the corner Main and First streets there were three or four cars on the crossing all the time, and it was almost impossible to get through.

The streets were crowded with thousands of people, and the procession was trying its best to get in line, but the festive street car was here and there, and everywhere, and it seemed to be impossible for the marshal and his aids to get their various divisions in line.

But the street cars were not the only obstructions last night. It seemed that every crank who could get a carriage or buggy was out, and they took some delight in driving up and down the crowded streets, yelling and swearing at the foot passengers.

The grand Republican ratification meeting was a big success, notwithstanding the fact that the procession did not get under way until 8:30.

The procession was fully a mile and a half long, and it occupied three-quarters of an hour in passing the junction of Main and Spring streets. When the rear guard was leaving Third street the advance had just reached that point, and the long line was just doubled between Third street and the Plaza.

A feature which added greatly to the vividness of the parade was the colored fire burned at stated intervals along the line, and the roman candles and other pyrotechnics touched off by men in the column, and by people along the sidewalks and at the windows of buildings aligning the line of march.

Los Angeles never before saw such a political demonstration.

It was said that some Democrats joined in the parade. They were bound not to be eluded out of all the fun. But they kept themselves in the background.

A number of ladies occupied carriages in line, and lent grace to the occasion.

The Santa Ana boys could not make satisfactory arrangements with the rail-roads, and hence did not come up to join the throng. They were disappointed, and a big blow-out of their own next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

OUTSIDE RATIFICATIONS.

Santa Ana Barbecue—Santa Barbara on Deck.

Santa Ana will ratify next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

James McFadden contributes a large ox, which is to be served up in barbecue during the afternoon, and in the evening there will be a parade and speech-making.

All Republicans, from Coyote Creek to San Juan-by-the-Sea, are invited, and it is probable that a delegation will go down from Los Angeles.

AT SANTA BARBARA.

There will be a grand ratification meeting at Santa Barbara next Wednesday evening, to which all Republicans of Los Angeles are invited. Gen. Vandever will be present, with the Ventura League club and citizens. Arrangements are being made to have special trains run from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara.

HIGHWAY VILLAINY.

A Young Lady Followed and Assaulted by a Tough.

Young women and girls should be careful about how they go about the suburbs and unfrequented portions of the city after nightfall. Several days ago the 14-year-old daughter of Dr. T. E. Swift, who resides on East Brooklyn street, had an experience which she will not soon forget. The young lady had been visiting a friend on Olive street after school, and about 5 o'clock started for home. She missed the car and started to walk, and when she got to Washington garden she noticed that a man was following her. As there was no car in sight she continued to walk, and shortly after passing the garden the man hurried up and accosted her. She did not answer him, but quickened her pace, when the man grabbed her by the arm and made improper proposals to her. She broke away, when he again caught her, and finally tried to catch her around the waist. The now thoroughly frightened girl again broke away and ran to a house where she was acquainted, the brute following her up to within a few feet of the door. The young lady says her assailant was a medium-sized man, dressed in dark clothes, with a peculiar walk, and she thinks that she could identify him if she should see him again. It is said that several girls have been followed and insulted in this section of the city, and numbers of parents will not send their daughters to school when they have to cross the fields to get to or from the schoolhouses. "Officer Wright of the humane Society is looking into the matter."

ANTI-SALOON.

A MEETING TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS AND TAKE BEARINGS.

An Organization Which Proposes to Act as a Whip and Spur in Politics and Compel the Nomination or Secure the Election of Good Men.

The anti-saloon meeting at Opera-house Hall last evening was attended by about 200 people, a majority of whom were ladies. Dr. J. P. Widney, chairman of the Executive Committee, presided, and Ulrich Knoch acted as secretary.

In calling the meeting to order, Dr. Widney referred to the Republican demonstration at the same place, and said there were no more present, after which he explained at length the objects for which they had been called together. The doctor said that the anti-saloon people had put off meeting until after the Presidential election because they did not wish to get mixed up in politics, and he referred to what had been accomplished at the last city election, saying that they had polled about 1300 votes, when they did not expect to get more than 600. He said that at a meeting held at Long Beach, last summer, it had been decided to broaden the scope of the work, so that it now included war on the saloon, war on the gambling house, war on the opium joint and war on the brothel. He had been honored last year by being selected as the head of the work and had done what he could. He then stated that the duties which had been given him had been performed, and tonight the term of office of the Executive Committee expired, and that it was now in order for the meeting to express its wishes.

Dr. Eli Fay moved that Dr. Widney be continued in the chair, which was carried unanimously, and the names of the Executive Committee were then read, as follows: Dr. J. P. Widney, Dr. Eli Fay, Ulrich Knoch, Mrs. Lucy More and Mrs. Lucy Blanchard.

On motion, Ulrich Knoch was requested to act as secretary.

C. B. Woodhead moved that a non-partisan committee of six be appointed on nominations for members of the Executive Committee, two from each of the parties, which motion prevailed, and the chair appointed the following: A. M. Hough, J. H. Eason, C. B. Woodhead, Dr. W. S. Parsons, C. B. Woodhead and Mr. Gassen.

The committee retired, when the chairman announced that the meeting was ready to hear reports or suggestions from anyone who had anything to offer. There was no use, he said, for him to make a temperance speech, as better ones could be found down the street. He would only say that the greatest forbearance should be shown, one with another, to the end that all could meet on some common ground. If necessary, compromise should be effected, as that is the road which leads to success. He had noticed that the reports never turned back. He was constantly growing. Men are growing all the time, and they must keep up with the times.

Dr. Eli Fay then addressed the meeting, saying they were to be congratulated on the number and character of the people present, as he did not think, in view of the counter attraction on the streets, that they would have enough to organize. He agreed with what the chairman said, and was of the opinion that interest in the movement had been increased. He said that the anti-saloonists go before the people on a non-partisan basis, he could see no reason why they should not be successful. He thought that the chances for success are good. If they are fortunate in uniting all the influences that are in favor of standing on higher moral ground in the interest of good government.

Mr. Spencer then addressed the meeting. He said that while he had no speech to make, he had something to say to the effect that he was in the interest of good government. There are many abuses which call for correction, and he proposed to do what he could to see that it is done. If he could not get a whole loaf he would take half, and if not a half a quarter, but he would do what he could. Judge T. Hanley then spoke at some length, seconding what Dr. Fay had said.

Rev. C. W. Heister was the next speaker, and outlined what he considered the relations of Christians to politics, saying that they are interested in politics, and that it is their duty to come out to the primaries and elections, and that the city government is taken out of the hands of hoodlums and placed in the hands of honest men, pure men, for if there is a reform, it is needed, it is this beautiful City of the Angels.

At this point the Committee on Nominations returned to the hall and reported the following: Dr. J. P. Widney, Dr. Eli Fay, Dr. W. S. Parsons, John F. Humphreys, Judge A. M. Stephens, Mr. Vickery, R. N. Wilson, Mr. H. Woodhead, A. M. Hough, H. C. Wimmer and C. P. Doriand.

The secretary, Mr. Blanchard, stated that representatives had been taken from each party, and J. R. Townsend asked if all the gentlemen reported had consented to serve. He suggested that the adoption of the report be postponed until the next meeting.

There was some talk about another meeting having the same object in view as this, and it was suggested that it would be a good plan to defer any definite action until the leaders of that movement can be consulted with.

Mr. Hough said that there is such a movement on foot, that they have not yet given to the public what their intentions are. The Executive Committee has special power to confer with any body of men or any organization that was to elect clean, honest men for the city government. He wanted, however, to add the names of four gentlemen, as the movement is dependent upon their influence to a great extent, and there being no opposition to the suggestion, the committee retired for that purpose.

Dr. Widney stated that there is no disposition to interfere with or forestall any other movement having for its object the betterment of the city. There is another citizens' movement, and he had been authorized to confer with them, but had been unable to find out anything about them, and he was not sure that it was as long as possible, this gathering had been called. The only reason that a joint meeting had not been called was because it was impossible to find out the leaders of the movement.

W. D. Gould said that as a Prohibitionist, he would state that his heart was in hearty sympathy with the movement, and will give it hearty support. They would not ask for representation, but would be glad to join in a common movement for the general good.

Mr. Spencer again addressed the meeting, and was followed by Mr. Adams, who advocated the anti-saloonists working the primaries, but Mr. Townsend objected, saying that they have no right at any primaries but their own.

The committee here returned and reported the names of Mrs. Lucy D. More, Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. Dr. J. P. Widney and Mrs. Hathaway as the lady members of the committee, and they were unanimously ratified.

There was another debate as to the object of the anti-saloon people, when Dr. Widney explained the policy last year. He said they would run their own ticket, which would be made up of men on the other ticket who would pledge themselves to stand on their platform, and that when they would do this, then the anti-saloon people would nominate men to fill the vacancies.

The motion was then put and carried, adopting the report of the committee and authorizing them to fill all vacancies, and Dr. Widney as chairman gave notice of a meeting at his office, on First street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when all the members are requested to be present.

The question was again asked whether an anti-saloon ticket would be put in the field, or whether it would be used merely as a whip, to which Dr. Widney replied that it would be used both as a whip and spur.

A collection of 50 cents each from the members was then taken up to defray the expenses, after which Mr. Hough remarked that there was a good show outside, and he thought it would be a good plan to adjourn and take it in. The idea seemed to strike the audience in a weak spot, and they all acted on it, flocking out of the hall to watch the big Republican procession past by.

"As to the remuneration for our work, if you will pitch in and help us win souls to Christ, we won't charge you much; but if you don't help us, we will dig you pretty heavy."

THE POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO.

Gentlemen: Mr. Wm. S. Stephenson of this county brought his son to town today to let us see him and to show us what CUTICURA REMEDY had done for him. This is the case of a young man who has been afflicted with eczema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedy has cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being covered with scabs, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now almost entirely healed, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are so used to his remarkable cure, and his doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

PASADENA.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Base-ball - Rapid Transit - Queer Election Bets - Minstrel Show - News and Gossip - Personal and General.

PASADENA, Nov. 10. - [Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The streets do not have their usual Saturday night appearance; all the Republicans have gone to Los Angeles to take part in or see the grand ratification meeting. When the representatives of the grand old party leave the town very few are left. All the Republican clubs went down in full uniform. It was good as a circus to see (and hear) the special train for Los Angeles when it arrived. Every window had one or more heads sticking out, and of all the rackets, they took the cake; the yelling, blowing of horns, etc., was perfectly deafening, but we lived through it and enjoyed the fun immensely. A very good band was on board. Also nearly all the places above here sent large numbers of their citizens.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The City Council met this morning in regular session.

Committee on Fire and Water reported favorably on allowing A. J. Smith to erect a tent on North Park Oaks; Frost and Atkins to enlarge their office; reported against allowing the M. E. Church to remove a frame building within the fire limits, and recalled the petition allowing Peter Steel to build an addition. A railing will be placed in the Council chamber in order to give the members more room. Jacoby Bros. have brought action against the city to annul the contract made for the purchase of the five-acre tract by the city for sewerage purposes. President Parker thought the board should advertise at once for bids for supplying water for fire purposes, two reservoirs to be kept full constantly. Two informal propositions have been received, but no action taken. Mr. Parker stated that the city had been offered through Judge Eaton a supply of water amounting to 180,000 gallons a day. Being at a high point it can be piped to any part of the highlands. The reservoirs may be located at a cost of about $5000. Mr. Throp thought the city should own sufficient water, and therefore he perfectly independent. Judge Eaton said the water supply he spoke of was permanent, and did not depend on surface streams. The City Engineer reported that it would cost $900 to grade Raymond avenue between C and D streets. Center streets. Prof. Pierce asked that A. H. Averill be appointed special policeman, without pay, to protect the Wilson school property. Referred to Police Committee. T. H. B. Cotton offered to make the city maps for house numbering at $3 per day. Referred to City Engineer. The City Engineer reported that it would be necessary to grade Mountain avenue, between Live Oaks and Old Oak avenues. The matter being put to vote, it carried, and the Engineer was instructed to prepare maps, etc.

Hentig & Jeffries sent in a communication in regard to their rejected bill. It was referred to the City Engineer. The Marshal and City Attorney were instructed to see that ordinance No. 125 is strictly enforced. This is the one intended to stop the sale of liquor.

BASE-BALL.

The game this afternoon between the team from Los Angeles and the local club was very close and exciting, although abounding with poor plays on both sides. A number of the Pasadena boys were away, but luck was in their favor, and therefore they reached the goal.

GENERAL NOTES.

G. F. Kernaghan had a great time tonight. He invited a large number to his house to celebrate the election of Harrison. It was a very enjoyable affair.

It is said the Glendale road will be completed to this place inside of 90 days. Hopes.

We have our share of outlandish election bets, also. Monday afternoon W. O. Bellaire will wheel W. B. Parker in a wheelbarrow along Raymond avenue, Colorado and Fair Oaks avenues. J. S. French will haul B. A. Johnson in a wagon over the same route.

The Smith and Casson boys were refused last yesterday, by Judge Taney. Do not fail to turn out next Monday night and Jolly.

A minstrel show will soon be given by the Pickwick Club.

Marshal Mundell has received his invitation to the hanging of Anschlag.

PERSONAL.

H. N. Farey returned yesterday from a business trip to Pomona.

P. Newmark of Los Angeles was in the city today.

A. L. Scofield, J. L. Lockwood, Miss Wadsworth and Miss Annie Scofield left for Coronado this morning.

South Pasadena.

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 10. - [To the editor of THE TIMES.] The grade on the Rapid Transit road is nearly completed, and track-laying will begin at once.

The Baptists now hold services in the room lately vacated by W. G. Hughes in the hotel building.

The small boys of this place have lately organized a militia company, and may frequently be seen doing marching drill on the streets.

The Good Templars met on Tuesday in their lodgeroom in the Opera block. Several new names were proposed, and an entertaining programme was rendered.

A Chautauqua circle has been formed, and will meet at the residence of Mrs. Case, Monday evening, the 19th inst., at 9 o'clock. Any one who would like to take the course, and meet for study and improvement, is invited to be present.

Business at the hotel is on the increase every day, and the rooms are getting filled up. The in-rush of tourists, which will commence in full force next week, is expected to considerably increase business everywhere.

The election here passed off in a quiet and peaceable manner. The workers for the various parties were at the polls early and remained to the close. The Prohibitionists polled a good vote, which was expected, considering that the people of this place are largely in favor of prohibition.

The outside of the new schoolhouse is finished and presents a handsome appearance. It will be an ornament to the town.

PERSONAL.

George Wilson has returned from the East, where he was delayed some time on business.

A. A. Burrows is at home again after an extended visit in San Diego county.

The family of John Sharp, who was until lately editor of the Bell, have moved to Pasadena to reside.

George Price and family are living in Miss Jennie Collier's residence on Glendora way.

John McReynolds, who was on a trip in San Diego and San Bernardino counties, returned last week.

M. B. Reed arrived home this week and brought with him a life partner.

May they live long and happily is the wish of their many friends.

J. A. Chittenden of San Luis Obispo is visiting the family of his cousin, A. H. Nettleton.

GARVANZA, Nov. 10. - [Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The Garvanza carpenters have resumed work on the Campbell-Johnson block after two weeks' rest, and will make the interior ready for occupancy as soon as possible.

The new Holiness Church is now entirely enclosed, and will soon be ready for occupancy.

The musical and dramatic talent of South Pasadena intend giving an entertainment at this place shortly. No doubt it will be a good one.

The water company are digging a tunnel through the hill on the west side of the arroyo, through which to run water pipes, where there will be no danger of them being washed out.

The case of Julia A. N. Rogers vs. Hepburn & Terry was decided last Monday in favor of plaintiff. The defendants having failed to appear.

The manner in which the Garvanza Park Hotel has been conducted lately has not reflected much credit on the lessees, Hepburn & Terry, probably because they being also lessees of the Carlton restaurant at Pasadena. They had too many irons in the fire, and in trying to heat both at once burned them both away.

The Carlton restaurant is now in the hands of another party, while their effects in the Garvanza Hotel are under attachment, and will soon be sold by constable's sale. Last year this fine hotel was filled up during the whole season, and it was understood that most of those who spent last winter there intended to come this season also. It is to be hoped that the present difficulties will soon be overcome and the hotel opened again. If properly conducted it could not fail to pay.

PERSONAL.

E. B. Wooley's family have returned to Garvanza to reside.

W. F. D. Jones, Constable-elect of the township, has been appointed by the Board of Supervisors to fill the vacancy until his term of office begins.

Fred Stamm met with quite a serious accident last week. In jumping from a buggy in a barn, he caught his arm on an iron hook used to hang harness on, which cut a bad gash several inches in his arm. The wound was sewn up by physician, and it is hoped he will be all right before long.

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and chest than any other. It is probable that every one, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system, and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they develop into life and death, at first slowly, and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat, and it allowed to continue their ravages, they extend to the lungs, producing consumption, and to the head, causing catarrh. Now, all this is dangerous, and if allowed to proceed, will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous, and may lose your life. As soon as you feel all this, something is wrong, your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Bosche's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

A Good Safe.

Waltham Safe and Steel Company, No. 230 N. 7th Street, Los Angeles - California.

WE desire to express to you our gratification at the manner in which the No. 20 fireproof safe, purchased of you, stood the terrible ordeal of fire, which destroyed our office and warehouse, the night of October 20, 1888.

The safe was in the office immediately under the cupola and heaviest part of the building, and was surrounded by piled lumber, doors, sashes, etc. The heat was so intense as to force the firemen to erect barricades to protect themselves, and your safe was in the midst of it; yet after the fire, we opened the safe on the combination, without forcing anything, and found our books, insurance policies, papers, etc., in as perfect a state of preservation as when placed in the safe. We are now using postage stamps that were in the safe.

It is with pleasure we offer this testimonial. Yours very truly

Los Angeles Storage, Commission and Lumber Company.

Lower California.

THE TIMES has frequently advised caution in investing in the lands offered for sale by the International Company in Lower California, notwithstanding the paid advocacy of such men as Nordhoff and others, whom the company has engaged—as it could well afford to—to land its enterprise. There is a probability that the wisdom of these warnings may be shortly verified.

The special inspector of colonies for the Mexican Government, who was sent to Lower California some time ago, to report on the extensive contract and concessions to the International Company or Mexico, in his report, which has just been made public, claims that the company has not fulfilled the terms of the concession in regard to the settlement of lands; that large tracts were sold to foreign speculators, not to settlers; and that the company appropriated and sold lands of private individuals. He recommends that the lands conceded to the company should become public lands, and that all moneys paid or improvements made thereon be forfeited to the Mexican Government.

The United States contains a sufficient extent and variety of public lands to satisfy any reasonable American. Those who elect to go outside must not be surprised if they find themselves, after a lapse of years, with more experience than property.

Election News.

The only election news of any consequence received yesterday was to the effect that the Republican majority in West Virginia is growing very small. There is, however, nothing to indicate any fear of the losing the State. The Republicans are sure of two Congressmen; moderately sure of a third, and have hopes of the fourth.

As a set-off to the reduced majority in West Virginia, the news is received from San Francisco that Cleveland's plurality in that city, according to the full unofficial account, has been brought down to the very moderate figure of 1079.

The very latest news of the Congressional contest in California indicates the election of De Haven in the First and of Phelps in the Fifth District—both Republicans—by slim majorities.

Whatever further details may be received, there is, fortunately, no danger of anything which can upset those two glorious facts—that Gen. Harrison is elected, and that the Fifty-first Congress will have a Republican majority.

This, surely, is "glory enough for one day."

No Analogy.

Hon. Parker Pillsbury, well known as one of the old anti-slavery veterans, long associated with William Lloyd Garrison, and now in his eightieth year, recently wrote a letter showing the delusion of those who believe that the old Liberty party and the Prohibition or third party. Mr. Pillsbury says:

"Nor did the American Anti-slavery Society, nor any of its auxiliaries, ever abjure politics as an unduly vulgar matter, though Mr. Garrison did. But they did to the very end oppose the organization of a separate or third political party, and for the very reason that many of the best temperance men and women opposed the formation of the Prohibition party—reasons which, as it seems to me, will grow stronger and stronger as time goes on and the lessons of experience and observation are better learned and more regarded."

I am very glad to know of your ability and fidelity in the temperance enterprise, and disastrous, I am sure, will be the day when it is committed to the hands of politicians in an organized form, or to any of the legislative bodies, State or national, through which they exercise their power. But, having for its object the promotion in this country of English interests, the maintenance of friendly relations with Great Britain, and the most watchful and malignant hostility toward everything Irish in this continent. I have seen the constitution, ritual and creed of the Sons of St. George, and I perceive that the Murchison letter conveys distinctly throughout its phraseology that it comes from a member of the society. The British Minister of course recognized this, and felt that he was committing a blunder, one of those blunders, wanted the information for the special guidance of the members of the society on the subject of the election.

I have, therefore, no hesitation in writing fully and frankly his own sentiments and those of his Government, and regarding the friendship of President Cleveland and his Administration toward British interests. I have no knowledge of Mr. Murchison or of the authorship of his letter, but I have good reason to believe that what I have stated is the true explanation of Minister West's reply."

Mr. Murchison informs us that he is collecting all these interesting details about himself in a scrap-book. He is learning a great many things that he never knew before.

For Speaker of the House.

To the members-elect of the House of Representatives, Fifty-first Congress, greeting: Gentlemen, where can you find a truer, better or brainer man than the Hon. "Billy" McKinley of Ohio? And where can you find better timber for Speaker than he? We nominate him for Speaker of the next House.

We shall be scarcely clear of the "ides of November" before we are landed on the horns of the municipal campaign. Next month we have to choose a city government—and a good one.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE—Hallen and Hart closed their week last night, but comedy of the lightest sort will still predominate.

Natural Gas, which has made an unusual hit elsewhere, will be turned on tomorrow night, to burn throughout the week.

THE AMERICAN TEAMS.

A Big Base-Ball Game on the Program.

A great treat will be presented to all lovers of the national game on Wednesday and Thursday next, as they will then have a chance to see base-ball as "it is seldom played on the Pacific Coast."

The Chicago nine, picked from the All-American, as is well known, are on their way to Australia to show the game in its perfection to our cousins of the antipodes. They have stopped on their way at Kansas City, Denver, Omaha, Stockton and played to great crowds. They are giving a series of games at San Francisco, and as Los Angeles is the terminus of the coast route on earth, arrangements have been made for them to come here and give two games on Wednesday and Thursday next.

It is of course superfluous to speak of the merits of the nine or of the individual players. The Chicago nine has won the present season's championship, and is second to none in the New York. The players are not changed often, as in other clubs, and those who play at Prospect Park this week are the same who, for years back, have won their games in the greatest cities of the East.

The All-American nine is captained by John M. Ward, the captain of the champion New Yorks, and his colleagues are picked men from all the other league nine except the Boston club, which has the advantage of having played together long as a team, but to players of such superior caliber that it is a slight drawback. One of them is the same who, for years back, have won their games in the greatest cities of the East.

The Prospect Park management pay the players $1800 for their two days' engagement here, and it expects to get back most of this money, as the game is a big one, and lumber of the late Democratic grand stand—its days of usefulness having expired—and they will erect an addition to the present stand, and pay out of the seating capacity 4000 people. This is a large number and the work is done for this occasion only, but the crowd will probably fill up all the seats.

Additional locomotives and rolling stock have been placed on the road to the park, and the transportation of the players and the spectators will be a matter of no consequence. This is a prime factor of the future success of that place as a B ground, and it is to be hoped that the promise will be fulfilled.

Besides the accompanying pictures of the players, the three larger cuts represent, first, A. T. Spaulding, the celebrated Chicago manufacturer of sporting goods, and second, the game. He is managing this Australia trip. With him and "Baby" are the Chicagoans, and John M. Ward of the New Yorks, "the best all-around player in the country" and husband of "Miss Davoury," who is known as "Little Nell," the California Diamond.

After the games here, the players will return to San Francisco, and sail for Australia Saturday next.

Fruit-growers.

The Tenth State Convention to Be Held at Chico.

The tenth State convention of fruit-growers will convene at Chico on Tuesday, November 20, 1888, and will continue in session four days.

The Butte-county Horticultural Society, the citizens of Chico and the members of the State Board cordially invite fruit-growers, shippers, packers, nurserymen and others interested in horticulture and kindred pursuits to attend the convention, to discuss and participate in its deliberations. Every effort will be made to insure a large attendance, and it is to be hoped the meeting will be one of the most successful of the kind.

An exhibition of fruits, flowers, etc., will be made by the people of Chico and vicinity. All those who are interested in the matter of value to horticulturists are requested to exhibit them at this meeting.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company will allow free travel from all points on their lines to Chico—provided a receipt for the ticket purchased be taken at starting point. This will be countersigned by the secretary at the convention, and entitle the holder to a return ticket at one-third the regular rate.

The convention will assemble in the Chico Town Hall, at 10 o'clock a.m. Among the vice-presidents and an assistant secretary. The president of the meeting will be read, and the address of welcome by Gen. John Bidwell of Chico.

An invitation has been sent to Gov. Waterman, and it is expected that he will be present at the opening of the convention.

Many valuable papers on different subjects pertaining to horticulture will be presented, written by some of the most prominent and experienced horticulturists of the State.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Numerous Protestants Filed Against Pleading Mite.

At the regular hour for the meeting of the Fire Commissioners yesterday afternoon, Mayor Workman was present. Mr. Teed being out of the city and Mr. Humphreys failing to materialize. The Mayor, however, heard the protest of C. Behrendt, registered at the Hotel North, and Mr. Teed next to his property, on Fourth street, between Spring and Fort, by McDonald, Cameron & Gillis. One of the latter also appeared and argued his case. He claimed that they had merely raised the house a little and added about six feet. Mr. Behrendt, on the other hand, claimed that they had added another story, put in a larger boiler and engine, which greatly increased the danger from fire, and that his tenants were threatening to move out if the nuisance was not abated. The matter was finally referred to the Chief to investigate.

Louis Goodfriend also wanted to protest against the proposed plan to add to the city of Phelps (Rep.) is generally conceded. Russian Securities Not Popular with the Germans.

Gladstone Hooted by Mobs on His Journey to Oxford.

Violence Evident in Samoa Make Serious Charges Against the German-Parrell's Scotch Libel Suit—Hunt for the Whitechapel Fiend.

By Telegram to The Times.

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—[Copyright, 1888, by the New York Associated Press.] The Kaiser's strictures on the Liberal press continue to be discussed. A Liberal organ tonight declares that restrictions on the liberty of the press are contemplated. But little credence is attached to the statement. The Socialist members of the municipal council tried to pass a vote of censure on the resigned attitude of the municipal deputation which presented the address to the Kaiser, but they were too weak numerically to accomplish their purpose. An important outcome of the affair is its effect on the Freisinnige party in the Landtag, their loss amounting to one-fourth their whole number. The party, though it has held its ground in Berlin, has had throughout the rest of the Empire, and especially at Koenigsberg, Breslau, Altona and Frankfurt, to cede considerable ground to the National Liberals. The Freisinnige organ declares that the result of the elections reflects the party from responsibility and recommends a steadfast, waiting attitude. The Government is now more than ever sure of a majority, not an absolutely independent one consisting of Conservatives only, but a working one composed either of Conservatives and National Liberals or Conservatives and the National Liberals have not increased in strength sufficiently to largely influence the Government's policy.

The Vossische Zeitung sounds a note of alarm on account of the proposed Russian loan. It attacks the Government for their change in attitude in reference to Russia's plans, and declares that loans secured under the conversion pretext have invariably been used to strengthen the Russian military forces. The journal urges that Germans are sufficiently alive to this and to the value of Russian securities to offer definite opposition to such enterprises. The weather has been extremely cold, and lovers of skating have been for several days enjoying that sport. Snow is flying thickly on all the mountains of Germany.

GLADSTONE HOOTED.

The Ex-Premier Greeted with Hostile Crowds on His Journey. LONDON, Nov. 10.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Mr. Gladstone made the journey from Birmingham to Wolverhampton in a carriage drawn by four horses. They were heartily cheered along the route. On arriving at Wolverhampton Gladstone proceeded to the drill hall, where he received a number of addresses. In replying he was repeatedly interrupted, the disorder culminating in an uproar that compelled him to abruptly close his remarks. Great confusion followed, the crowd making a rush and demolishing the benches that separated members of the press from the public. Stewards guarded the private door by which Gladstone left the hall. The ex-premier proceeded to the railway station, the platform being closely guarded, and started for Oxford. A snow hill a crowd that had gathered round and hooted. At Leamington, the former Mayor of the town welcomed Mr. Gladstone, and his wife presented Mrs. Gladstone with a bouquet. At Banbury they received a similar welcome. At Oxford a crowd which was largely composed of undergraduates gathered and hooted at Gladstone as he was driven to the residence of Warden Keeble.

A NEVADA LYNCHING.

Quick Justice Meted Out to an Italian Murderer. AUSTIN (Nev.), Nov. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] News has just reached here of the particulars of a tragedy at Cortez, 90 miles from here. It was brought by Deputy Sheriff W. J. Hickey and Amos Corbett. Davis Sabani, an Italian, shot Richard Holt, on Wednesday evening, in the stomach, inflicting a mortal wound, the latter dying in 24 hours. His dying request was that he should get justice, and that a court should hang his murderer. Sabani shot Holt because he could not get a loan of money. Parties took the murderer to near the Cortez mill, and lynched him by throwing a rope over a limb of a tree and hoisting him up by the neck. A deputy sheriff found his body tied to a bedpost at his boarding-house. Life had been extinct about 10 hours. The map would say nothing about it, saying that he must have come from the mill, and was generally liked. Sabani was only 22 years old. He had an unsavory reputation, having been in a number of shooting scrapes, and was known as a rascal, lately by a Winchester rifle.

DOMESTIC BROLL.

A Sign Fresco Artist Who Painted His Wife's Eye.

Yesterday afternoon, between 1 and 2 o'clock, a small boy rushed frantically into the police station in search of an officer. The little fellow said that a man at the corner of Fort and Fifth streets was beating his wife, and that the woman had run out into the street calling for a policeman. The youngster was reinforced in a few minutes by one or two men, who corroborated his story. Mounted Officer Jimmie Mackel was sent out to investigate the case. A Times reporter, who was at the station, also started out, on foot, with another policeman, to find out what damage had been done. On arriving at the place designated, everything was quiet, but from some bystanders it was learned that J. Seifke, a sign painter and fresco artist, had been beating his wife, a woman aged about 40 years. The first sign of the trouble was a big racket in the house, followed by a woman's screams, and in a few minutes Mrs. Seifke came out of the back gate crying, while some one in the upper story yelled for a policeman. A number of men rushed into the yard, when Seifke fired them out, and when the officers arrived there was no sign of a conflict, nor could anything be seen of the parties. It is understood that Mrs. Seifke was struck in the eye, blacking it, but was not otherwise injured. The affair caused quite a sensation in the usually quiet neighborhood, as it is the first time that anything of the kind has occurred. Seifke is said to be a very quiet man when sober, but when drunk he is very quarrelsome. There were no arrests in the case.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

A POEM FOR THE TIMES' BOYS AND GIRLS.

A Whole Lovely Budget of Letters—A School Girl's Paper—Don't Rob the Birds' Nests—Rosedale—Some Pomona Letters—Hurrah for Harrison!

THE MORNING HOUR. O, the golden arrows Which the dawn is flinging! O, the glorious music Which the birds are singing! The busy spider spinning His web of silken shining I'm sure does stop to listen In his nest of green.

Oh, the happy cricket! He joins the forest choir! Don't you catch his strident note, Under the leaf and higher? The bee it buzzes louder, And the flies they sing—Touched with rainbow colors, Every gaily wing.

O, the toad is blinking Where the sunshine falls, And the flowers are climbing Up the grassy stalks, And the grasses hearken To the singing daisies, Every gaily wing.

Like a million diamonds Gleams a cloud of spheres, Every one a shining Like a crystal clear, Which report was published in the official Gazette, has been suspended.

With a rainbow beauty All about it flurried.

O, the blessed morning! Dear children, open your eyes To welcome all the beauty That looks the earth and skies. The world is a rare world, And looks at it were born Answer with light and gladness, On every cloudless morn.

Well, well, now, if the children haven't done splendidly this week. Here is enough to fill our column without my saying a word. Here, let me shake hands with you and thank you for your generous remembrance.

First of all comes a well-written article from a young school girl, which I think that our older boys and girls can well appreciate. This is what she writes:

A TYPICAL MATHEMATICIAN OF THE FAIR SEX. The typical girl of the nineteenth century hates mathematics from the cradle. She shows a natural aversion to them from the time when she finds out that two and two make four, until she explores the hidden mysteries of mathematical astronomy. When she begins arithmetic it is not so bad. She can work all her examples in school, but she soon finds them getting harder; she brings home her arithmetic; she looks them over once or twice after tea, and then my brain will be clearer, and forthwith the arithmetic is laid aside. In the morning her first thought is to get up and get up and do, and she is very sleepy and says to herself: "I will just sleep a little bit longer, for I will have plenty of time." She does a little, but the thought of the examples weighs so heavily on her mind that she is unable to get up and do them. Somehow everything goes wrong that morning; breakfast is called and she is not ready, on account of the extra nap. After breakfast dishes are to be washed, and after that she is to do her school work. She is so tired that she sits herself at last to the dreadful task. She reads them all over once, but understands not a word. Her mind is in a whirl; she is afraid she will be late to school—dreadful disgraces! She looks at her work and says: "Dreadful old examples! I don't see why they were put there. They are much too hard for our class." The older sister takes pity on her and works all the examples, and when Bessie goes to school she astonishes the class by having worked them all, and manages to get through the explanation of them somehow. This routine is kept up until she is through with algebra, and next year she finds herself in algebra. Oh how wise she feels! and takes occasion to inform every one, languidly, carelessly, that she is studying algebra, as if it were a mere trifle—a mere mention of her studies. She likes it at first, it is so very advanced, and she is so glad that it is getting more difficult. The demonstrations are "awful." She goes to class one day after only having looked over her lesson at recess, hopes she can't be called upon that day to recite, and she has had luck with her lesson. She is called on first of all to give the demonstration. She states the proposition correctly, begins the demonstration and recites the first two or three lines of it from memory; she falters—stops—she is puzzled. We named it Archibutler. After we had kept it two or three days we put it out on the flowers to hunt for itself. Vivian and I like to study about the different kinds of insects and watch them.

Thank you, my little friend, I shall be very happy to keep your name in my memory, and I thank you as my friend. And here is a letter from the little sister, which I am very glad to receive:

Dear Mrs. Ots: I thought I would write a letter so you could have one for my birthday. I received several nice presents. Mamma made me a nice birthday dinner, and grandpa and grandma were here for dinner. Grandpa is a G. A. I. man, and he and grandma are very nice. I hope Harrison is elected President on my birthday.

I go to Sunday-school and church every Sunday. We have about 180 in Sunday-school. My sister Vera and I still are the school boys. I like to take our Little Ones and the Nursery, and Vera takes the Pantry. I have never gone to school much, but study at home.

I am trying to be a good girl, and I think every morning I try and make that a good day, and help make my friends happy. I love you because you write so many nice stories for children. Your little friend,

Ab, you dear little friend, you are beginning to write just as every body should, by trying to make every day "good," and make your friends happy. If we would all do that we could make life very beautiful indeed. I love such little girls as you very much, and I am sure they do, also, who say, "Suffer little children to come unto me."

Yes, Harrison was elected on your birthday, and we are all glad that you are to have so good a President. Just ask your papa and grandpa to give them cheers and a tiger for him. Hurrah!

One more letter, and then our column must go to the printer: LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Nov. 7, 1888.

but I am not a boy, I am a girl, and 11 years old. I have been going to school for two months this year. Our school commenced September 10th. I am in reading, arithmetic, spelling, geography, and grammar. I like my teacher very much. Her name is Miss Morrill. I have a bird, and it is so sweet. I like the story, Little Boy Blue, very much. My papa is 54 years old, and my mamma is 32 years old. I have a sister that is 15 years old, and she weighs 145 pounds. We have a little puppy, his name is Bingo. My little sisters like to play with him, and the big one, too. There has been considerable sickness here this fall. One of our schoolmates is sick now. If any of us ever get sick now we shall be sure to come to Los Angeles, for our good Dr. Johnson has gone down there to live. He is a very good doctor. He went there to graduate. I fancy if the MIRROR boys and girls get sick they must go to him, and he will cure everybody. Well, I must close. From your friend, Clio Trev.

Well, now, that is too bad that I made a boy of you. But I shall remember hereafter that Clio is not a boy's name.

Another letter from a little friend who has not written us before. We are glad to welcome her to a place with our boys and girls:

LA VERNE, Nov. 5, 1888. Dear Friend Mrs. E. A. Ots: I am a little girl 9 years old. I go to school every day. I study reading, spelling, arithmetic, geography, writing and drawing. The teachers are Mr. Molynaux and Miss Bradshaw. I like them very well. I go to Sunday-school, which we all like. Sometimes my little sister goes with me. She is 3 years old. Her name is Ina. She likes to get the picture papers and picture cards.

I get the MIRROR from the postoffice most every Saturday. I like the children's letters very much.

A little friend of mine has three rabbits, one of them is a white rabbit. There are sweet-singing larks here, mockingbirds, blackbirds and many other kinds. Some of my playmates have got collections of birds' eggs, but mamma says it is wrong to rob the birds of their pretty eggs.

If it escapes the waste-basket, perhaps I will write again.

MARY E. ELLSWORTH. Your mamma is right, Mary. It is wrong to rob the pretty nests of the little birds who make the world so beautiful with their happy songs.

ROSEDALE (Los Angeles), Nov. 6. Dear Mrs. Ots: I thought I would write you a letter. We have a Band of Hope in Rosedale; we have about sixty members in it, and have had six meetings. I like to go to school. I have the best teacher I had last term. I like her real well. We have seven teachers and some of the scholars have to go home because there is not enough room in the school. Today was election and we voted in our room. There are about sixty-three scholars in our room, and in ours there were thirty-one Republicans and three Prohibitionists and all the rest were Democrats. Yours truly, ETHEL CONNELLEY. Well, my dear, you can narrate for Harrison for he is to be our next President.

Here is a letter from the home of Murchison, which is very well written:

POMONA, (Cal.), Nov. 7, 1888. Dear Mrs. Ots: This is the first time I have ever written to the MIRROR. I am a little girl 11 years old. My papa takes the MIRROR, and my sister Vivian and I like to read the children's column.

We were reading last night, in the last MIRROR, your description of the sunset on that island near up in the north. I think it must have been grand. We have had some beautiful sunsets of late. Vivian and I like to go out of an evening and look at the sunset.

A few weeks ago mamma found a crabs, and I thought it was a very pretty butterfly. She let Vivian have it for hers. It was very tame. Any of us could pick it up and it would stand on our finger and eat honey and water, or sugar and water. We named it Archibutler. After we had kept it two or three days we put it out on the flowers to hunt for itself. Vivian and I like to study about the different kinds of insects and watch them.

I know you must have a great many friends among the children. Please come to me as one.

VERA E. SPRINGFIELD. Thank you, my little friend, I shall be very happy to keep your name in my memory, and I thank you as my friend. And here is a letter from the little sister, which I am very glad to receive:

AFTER THE BATTLE.

FINAL WHITE HOUSE SCENE—TUESDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 11.

"Must see the man of my days more blessed!"

DANIEL AND CLEVELAND.

(After reading the return.)

Clev. O, that thou should come my down-fall! Rome fell!

Great Caesar died! The sword slept mighty

Trojan, and from kings' crowns have fallen, on

Which the mad mob trampled, yet the earth shook

Not. But now, why are not the mountains

From their foundations, and why shine the stars

When in total eclipse hath set my star of destiny?

O, why doth not the earth make moan, and the people weep rivers of tears?

Alas! Democracy, thou art fallen like Lucifer, son of the morning, and the glory of thy garments is hidden with sackcloth! I am undone, and from

My estate back to the beer shop and the Unfortunate place of Sheriff must I sink, my

Insistence of office but a hempen halberd fit for the necks of criminals!

Dan. O, my liege, I pray thee, make not

Me so sadly. If like Lucifer thou hast

Fallen, so we, like him, are archangels, who

From fallen thrones have fallen with thee.

And power is rent from us like a mantle.

The voice of gladness is silent in the

Southland, where, alas! no more can we Secure.

With the singing lash of party, the black

Who

Dares assert his manhood, and defy our

Boasting, and we, as fondly hoped to Nourish, like a tender child, feel on the Manna of strong hopes and purpose un-cayed.

That our Confederacy, so cherished

Still by southern autocrats; to rear its

Free-trade pillars, and faster fetters, which

We had laid with flowers, about the limbs

Of the sturdy Hercules of Labor.

Clev. O, Daniel! Daniel! my hand

Not which

Penned the letter unto Lord Sackville!

What

Madness seized us that we should spring

upon

The people our free-trade doctrine our

Redemption had free to compromise?

Why was not prophetic vision given us

That we might slay our hand till place and Power were sure? Oh, I could weep such

tears

As would burn like fire and scorch the ground!

They watered! I could rend from my right arm

The hand with which I penned my proclamations,

And grind my words to powder to strew

upon

The mark of my tears. I could eat my

Tongue, which hath so gabbled of free trade, and

Spit on England, whose Minister hath so

Unwittingly helped my defeat. No more!

No more can we lay our hands upon the Surplus, and pour it out to banks who in Return shall flood our campaign coffers with

Their golden store, the only interest

We asked for use of people's money! No

More from the hands of soldiers—the Nations'

Beggars—can we withhold the thousands asked

For pensions. Pensions for what? For fighting

Southern gentlemen! Oh, my heart hath turned

To bitterness, and my soul to tears—tears

Such as might flow with Aetna's lava-

tears

Such as hell might weep amidst her burning.

Dan. My liege! My liege! I did not dream

so soon

The task of thy glory would depart,

And the might of thy strong power be so

Overthrown, O, curses on the base, beg-garly

North which hath betrayed thee, even on the

Many undances who foreswore their party.

Because, forsooth, they would not drink

the free-

Trade wine we offered them. O, would I were

A Samson, and could pull down the pillars

Of the skies so they might fall and crush them.

[Enter Firas, Garland and Dickinson.]

Firas. O, the news is damnable! I had hoped

To see the South again in power—to

See it hold the lash over who once were

Conquerors. Well, well! thou hast loved it, and

Sent it ear to its demands. Thou hast

Lent it bravely, Your Excellency, and

The muckrake to scratch for the small straws.

Of discordance? Nay, I think such state ment

We can crowd down their hollow throats

without

A question.

Dan. I should be most glad if it

Were so.

Fairchild. At any rate I will attempt it.

Dictation. O, power, how have they slipped

From us like rocks rent from the shore by

like a

Lashing of tempestuous billows! For

A trial of years to come I had made ready here. My house was leased, and

like a

Bird in spring, that maketh ready for the Golden days of the sweet May, I had made ready for my nesting. Alas! alas!

I have no language for my grief, for speech is mockery.

Garland. Sorrow lieth not less

Heavily upon me. I feel the roughness

Of his sackcloth, the prick of his sharp thorn.

Back to my Pan-Electric duties must

I go, bearing the weight of the malicious

Falseshoots that have been heaped on me.

O can I

Be, our hopes have shrunk to such small leaves of days?

Dan. And thou, sir, how can I leave thee?

Thou hast been my other self, and I

Thy bosom friend. As o'er Saul and Jonathan

The dew on Mount Gilboa wept, so might

They weep o'er us as late brought us low!

Clev. One of the mob of people! One

With the common herd! My greatness

By defeat! My star set in the clouds! My

Hopes dead! O, my cabinet! My Daniel,

What is left for me? I die because Democracy hath been bereft of reason!

Because she could not see my wisdom

And let me chain her! Because she would not

Take the bread I gave her! Because she would

Not wear the yoke we had fashioned for her.

So had she, together with our foes,

struck

At me and cast me off like a dead

Cesar whom she once had worshipped. O

would

I could strike back, but we are powerless! O,

Would I could weep tears enough to drawn

The People's voice! O, would the South were strong!

Enough have we, but, alas! it is

Not! Good night, my ministers and my Faithful Daniel. My heart's too sick for speech.

Let us go.

Now we have done with him,

Now let him rest,

With his free-trade pall

Over his breast.

Under our triumph.

Under our scorn.

Lay him to rest.

And bear him along.

Over his head let the bandana wave.

Watch by his grave.
